Consultation on the draft guidelines on risk factors under the Prospectus Regulation

Law Society and City of London Law Society
joint response

5 October 2018

Introduction

1. The views set out in this paper have been prepared by a Joint Working Party of the Company Law Committees of the City of London Law Society (CLLS) and the Law Society of England and Wales (the Law Society).
2. The CLLS represents approximately 17,000 City lawyers through individual and corporate membership, including some of the largest international law firms in the world. These law firms advise a variety of clients from multinational companies and financial institutions to Government departments, often in relation to complex, multijurisdictional legal issues. The CLLS responds to a variety of consultations on issues of importance to its members through its 19 specialist committees.
3. The Law Society is the professional body for solicitors in England and Wales, representing over 160,000 registered legal practitioners. It represents the profession to Parliament, Government and regulatory bodies in both the domestic and European arena and has a public interest in the reform of the law.
4. The Joint Working Party is made up of senior and specialist corporate lawyers from both the CLLS and the Law Society who have a particular focus on issues relating to capital markets.

General remarks on the proposed technical advice

5. Having reviewed and commented on the response paper to this consultation prepared by the Association for Financial Markets in Europe (AFME) of which some of our working party are members, we confirm that our joint working party endorses the substantive comments set out in the AFME response.
